Brammer demonstrates superior supply chain capabilities

Brammer has been awarded a three year agreement with INEOS Manufacturing Scotland Ltd for the provision, management and procurement of bearings and mechanical power transmission products.

Brammer met INEOS' strategic needs and offered product provision with outstanding technical support and delivery.

Brammer is committed to working closely with INEOS to achieve cost savings through supply chain innovation, leveraging spend and through sharing best practice for the benefit of INEOS in the UK and, potentially, at other INEOS European locations.

Bob Meadows, Brammer key account manager petrochemical, said: "This agreement represents significant annual growth potential in the bearings and mechanical power transmission sectors.

"We have been able to demonstrate to INEOS how Brammer can bring innovation and value added activities to help it reduce working capital investment and – through an e-commerce solution – significantly reduce acquisition costs."

Brammer is the UK's leading distributor of industrial maintenance, repair and overhaul (MRO) products, and offers a 24/7 delivery service throughout the UK.
