BRAMMER raises more than £20,000 for Make-A-Wish at its spectacular Awards & Wishes Evening

BRAMMER has adopted the Make-A-Wish Foundation®, UK as its charity partner for 2007/08. Its Awards & Wishes event also recognised outstanding innovation in the MRO marketplace with a glittering awards ceremony, attended by 300 guests at London’s magnificent Science Museum.

Hosted by motoring journalist and TV presenter Quentin Willson, the event raised some £25,000 through donations and an auction for the Make-A-Wish Foundation®, who grant magical wishes to children and young people fighting life-threatening illnesses.

Managing director Ian Ritchie said: “BRAMMER is immensely proud to work with and support Make-A-Wish; we share their passion and enthusiasm to provide a little sunshine into lives that have been dominated by pain, and trauma, providing respite from their normal routines of hospitals, doctors and painful treatment”

BRAMMER was delighted to host a table for Make-A-Wish's long-term supporters, who over the past 21 years have dedicated their time to this worthy charity.

Make-A-Wish CEO Neil Jones introduced the audience to the charity and showcased their new Make-A-Wish DVD, You raise me up. Neil said: "I would like to extend grateful thanks of everyone involved with Make-A-Wish Foundation® UK to the Directors and staff of Brammer UK Limited for choosing us to be your Charity of the Year in 2007".

"The BRAMMER Awards & Wishes event has given us the chance to spread a little magic into the lives of many seriously ill children and to make a real difference where it is most deserved. Thank you to all BRAMMER customers and suppliers for their generosity; with your support we grant more magical wishes".
